These assignments and handouts can be used with any novel and for most grade levels. They are meant to be creative supplements for additional assessment. These are great for the kids who are reluctant readers who like hands-on projects and for advanced students who need additional stimulation and motivation.

If you enjoy these assignments and find them useful, please take a moment to leave positive feedback. If you have any questions, find errors, or have any concerns, please feel free to email me directly at torman@erie1.info or orman3@mchsi.com. Thank you!
Creative Assignments to use with ANY Novel

1. Make a bookmark for the book. Include one or more of the following: a quote from chapter one, a picture of one of the characters that you drew yourself, a map of the town/city or setting, a scene from chapter one, or the title & author in a creative font. (templates on page 8)

2. Re-enact a scene from one of the chapters. Give students a list of characters. They must write a script based on the dialogue of that scene/chapter (or provide a script for them).

3. Compare two characters by using a “scattergories”* analogy, such as:
   Character A is like a _______________ (game kids play) because ___________________.
   Character B is like a _______________ (type of fruit) because ___________________.

4. Do the “If I were ________, I would...” activity. Have the students choose one of the characters to “be” and write what they would do if they were that character. (Handout for this on page 10)

5. Write an advertising slogan for an item that is a symbol in the book. Examples of popular slogans are:
   Nike: Just do it.
   Visa: It’s everywhere you want to be.
   Volkswagen: Driver’s wanted.
   KFC: It’s finger-licking good.
   Bounty: The quicker-picker-upper.
   Puffs: A nose in need deserves Puffs, indeed.
   Pringles: Once you pop, you won’t stop.
   Mountain Dew: Do the Dew!

6. Write a country-western song that summarizes the chapter.

7. Write a rap song that summarizes the chapter.

8. Write a poem that summarizes the chapter.

9. Write an Ode to a character or object from the novel. An “Ode” is a poem dedicated to that person or object. They are usually titled “Ode to a __________” or “Ode for ______.”
   Sample student ode (another example on page 15):
   Ode to Tornadoes
   by Ronaldo B.
   O spinning around, you are the wind blowing in my face. A light gray line reaching up to the heavens.
   A giant chimp twisting
   in the flow of the wind.
   I love your strength for blowing things away and destroying everything in your path.

10. Write an event or scene from the novel as if you are a newspaper reporter. Interview characters who witnessed it first hand and include their quotes in your story. In addition, draw a picture to go along with your story or find a picture from your photo library or from the internet to include with your story.
11. Give characters nick-names that would fit with their personalities or actions. For example, a character whose name is Frank and wears an eye patch could have a nickname like “Ol’ One-Eyed Frank.”

12. Choose a character and write a journal entry as if you are that character. What are you thinking and feeling right now? What are your deepest (and perhaps darkest) thoughts? What secrets do you have that you want to spill?

13. Choose a character and answer the following:
   Character A reminds me of ______________ because ______________.

14. Create a timeline of events from the novel using large poster board. Use different colors to represent different events or things happening to different characters.

15. Predict what will happen in the next chapter of the book. Draw it or write a paragraph.

16. Write a haiku for one of the characters or about a scene from the book. Haiku format is: 1st line, 5 syllables; 2nd line, 7 syllables; 3rd line 5 syllables

17. Write a news headline for one (or more) of the chapters. Headlines are one line (and may have a sub-heading); they are not complete sentences—they just give the readers the subject & verb to draw the reader in. Headlines often answer the questions Who? and What?, but may answer When?, Where?, Why?, or How?.

18. Create an alternative cover for the novel. Who or what would you include? If you do not wish to draw or create the cover on a computer, describe your new cover in writing.

19. If you were to interview the author, what questions would you ask? How would he/she respond?

20. Create a Facebook or Myspace profile for one of the characters (a fake one). You can let the students create their own template, or use one I made. (Links to my free template on page 7)

21. Write Facebook “status updates” or Twitter “tweets” for one of the characters throughout the novel.

22. You are the director of the movie version of this novel. You must cast actors for each of the characters. Who would you cast for each role and why? Make a collage with pictures or do in writing.

23. Research the internet to find references to this book. Can you find any products, music bands, stores, etc. that were named after a character or the title? Are there any fan-based web sites dedicated to any characters or the author? Report what you find to the class.

24. Create a web podcast using any of the following topic ideas:
   - A book talk or review of the book
   - A rework of the ending, in which you read a new ending to the novel
   - A reenactment of one of the scenes
   - Fake interview with the author
   - Fake interview with one or more of the characters
25. If this novel had a playlist (or soundtrack), which songs would be included and why? Put together a soundtrack or iTunes playlist. Burn it on a CD and create the CD cover. Make sure to have an explanation for why each song was included. (see handout, page 21)

26. Finish the following:
   - I realize ______________ (the author) titled the book ______________ because...
   - One thing I like about the book is ____________ because...
   - One thing I do not like about the book is ____________ because...
   - The character I will never forget is ____________ because...

27. Write a bio poem for one of the characters (see directions on page 15 & handouts on pages 16-17).

28. Character postcards: Have one character send another character a post card. What would he/she write on the card? What would the “picture” side have on it? (handout included on pages 13-14; copy front-to-back)

29. Make a horoscope for the main character explaining his sign and his future.

30. Pretend you're one character and introduce the other characters to your class.

31. As an interior decorator, how would you decorate a character's bedroom and why?

32. Draw a comic strip of your book. (see blank comic strip on page 12)

33. Write an obituary for one character.

34. Invite one character to dinner and write a note of explanation to your mother.

35. Invite three celebrities to a party for the main character and explain your choice.

36. Make up five interview questions (with answers) for the main character.

37. Explain where the main character would prefer to vacation and why.

38. Explain what the main character would prefer for dinner and why.

40. Create paper dolls for your characters, complete with outfits. What types of clothing/fashion does the main character like or wear?

41. Make a "WANTED" poster for the main character.

42. Create a poster for your book. Promote it to your classmates.

43. Write an ad for the novel or story.

44. Write a TV commercial for your book.

45. Write a different ending to the novel.
46. Create a parody of a scene or the novel, in general. Act it out, film it, and present it to the class. If time is a challenge, look on YouTube to see if there are parodies or related videos to the novel or author. Bookmark them and present them to the class.

47. Find a famous quote that applies to the novel and tell how it relates and why you chose it.

48. Create a crossword puzzle of vocabulary words (using the definitions as clues) from the novel. Students can create crosswords here: http://www.puzzle-maker.com/CW/ For more online vocabulary practice, try Quizlet.com.

49. Create a character crossword puzzle (using either quotes, actions, or descriptions from the characters as clues).

50. Create a word find or other puzzle. Create other puzzles here: http://puzzlemaker.discoveryeducation.com/

51. From the yellow pages of a phone book, pick out businesses you think the main character would be interested in and explain why.

52. Author Collage: Find a picture of the author and create a collage of pictures and words that represent the novel and the author's life. (For example, find a picture or logo for the author’s college/alma mater to use in the collage.)

53. Write to the author and explain your reaction to his/her book.

54. Pretend you're the author and describe the part that was most fun to write.

55. The prequel: Tell what you think happened before the story began.

56. If your story took place one hundred years earlier, how would your main character act? OR If your main character is from the past, how would he act if the book took place today?

57. Based on the TV show “Punk’d” (or “Candid Camera”), describe one of the characters getting “punk’d” or caught on hidden camera. What prank would be pulled on them? How would they react? If possible, act it out or film for the class to see.

58. Describe what you think happened to the main character after the book ended.

59. Explain why your book should be included in a time capsule to be dug up in one hundred years. OR If one of the characters were to make a time capsule, what would they include in it and why?

60. Create a board game relating to the novel. Things to think about: materials for pawns, challenge cards, what is the object of the game, how will the pawns move around the board (spinner, roll dice, draw card, etc.).

61. Compare your book with another book you've read. Which is better and why?

62. Research and plan a field trip related to the novel. Explain how each of the places you would visit relate to the story or characters.

63. You are a seller on eBay. What items from the novel would you list for sale? Create a fake listing, complete with description, of the item. Do you think anyone would buy? Why or why not? (Great for teaching symbolism of items.)
64. Create a test over the book for a classmate. Include multiple choice, true/false, matching, short-answer essay, fill-in-the-blank. Make sure to include the answer key!

65. Find and make recipes pertaining to the book (and share with the class, of course!). Explain why you chose the items and how they pertained to the story. You may provide background or historical information about the food in that particular setting and why it may (or may not) be of importance to the characters.

66. Create a recipe book of foods and drinks relating to the story. For each recipe, add a paragraph description relating it to one of the characters or its importance in the story.

67. Write a scene that could have happened in the book but didn’t. After you have written the scene, explain how it would have changed the outcome of the book.

68. Create a model of one of the landmarks or scenery from the book.

69. Start an online book review blog. Write your own review for the book and invite others to comment. (Good websites for this are: http://www.goodreads.com or http://www.teenreads.com)

70. Which magazines would each character subscribe to and why? Choose at least one magazine for three of the characters.

71. Character’s Cell Phone: What kind of cell phone would the main character have? Who would be in his/her contact list? If he/she were to text another character, what would the text message say? How would the other character respond?

72. If the characters were competing in the Olympics (either summer or winter), which events would they be in and why?

73. What does each character have hiding under their bed or in their closet? Why? (If a character is a neat-freak, perhaps they have nothing...including dust!)

74. Which character would you like to play? Why? Would you want to switch places with any character? Why or why not?

75. What would the main character’s (or any of the characters’) web site look like? Draw it out or create it on the computer.

76. Three Square Reflection: Write three quotes you think are important, three key facts you think are important, and three connections to your personal world. (see handout on page 9)

77. Play character charades with your classmates: See if they can guess the characters based on your acting (silent acting, like a mime).

78. Create trading cards for at least three of the characters from the novel or story. Use index cards & make sure to write/draw on both sides. Include information such as name, nick names, occupation, height, weight, eye color, personality traits, skills, specialties, friends, hobbies, honors/awards, notable quotes, etc. (see page 25 for template).

79. What’s Hot? What’s Not? Use the catch-phrase to have students summarize the good points/bad points in a chapter or for characterization in novel (or popular/unpopular viewpoints; good/bad events; good/bad choices by a character; funny/not funny quotes, etc.). (p. 28 template)

3. Family Values
4. Stereotypes

(These are just example themes from one novel. Insert your own themes for students below.)
EXAMPLES OF BIO POEMS
SUBSTITUTE “YOU” FOR ONE OF THE CHARACTER’S NAMES

1. I AM... POEM
Method for I Am...
I am (two special characteristics)
I wonder (something you are actually curious about)
I hear (an imaginary sound)
I see (an imaginary sight)
I want (an actual desire)
I am (the first line of the poem restated)
I pretend (something you actually pretend to do)
I feel (a feeling about something imaginary)
I touch (an imaginary touch)
I worry (something that really bothers you)
I cry (something that makes you very sad)
I am (the first line of the poem repeated)
I understand (something you know is true)
I say (something you believe in)
I dream (something you actually dream about)
I try (something you really make an effort about)
I hope (something you actually hope for)
I am (the first line of the poem repeated)

Student Example:
I am the wine and the future
I wonder how many ripples I will have to swim
I hear the trickle of time in a bitter bottle
I see the translucent red drain from the wine
I want the sweet satin liquid to stain my tongue
I am the wine and the future.
I pretend to entertain the glowing embers
I feel the dew that sours the grapes
I touch the vine that grows new life
I worry the drunkard may speak the truth
I cry the dewdrop tears on the winery walls
I am the wine and the future.
I understand the dust on the bottle
I say it only makes it sweeter with time
I dream the sponge cork may never be replaced by lips
I try to glimmer the crack in my glass container
I hope the sun-faded label never creases for lost identity
I am the wine and the future.
---Katie Reilly (Grade 10)

See handout on the next page for use with a character from any book/novel.

2. BIO POEM (Variation)
Format:
(first name)
(four words that describe you)
Relative of (list close family members)
Resident of (place where you live)
Who reads (four books, magazines, and or newspapers)
Who likes (three things you like)
Who loves (three things you love)
Who fears (three things)
Who wishes (three things)
Who admires (three)
Who needs (three things you need)
Who aspires to (at least two aspirations)
(last name)

3. AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL:
Write a poem about yourself using this form or another poetry form.
Line 1: __ Your name
Line 2: _, _, _ 3 personal characteristics or physical traits
Line 3: Brother or sister of __ or son/daughter of Line 4: Who loves __, __, and __ 3 people, things, ideas
Line 5: Who feels __ about __ 1 emotion about 1 thing
Line 6: Who needs __, __, and __ 3 things you need
Line 7: Who gives __, __, and __ 3 objects you share
Line 8: Who fears __, __, and __ 3 items
Line 9: Who'd like to see __ 1 place, or person
Line 10: Who dreams of __ 1 item or idea
Line 11: A student of __ your school or teacher's name
Line 12: __ Nickname or repeat your first name

Another example of an Ode:
An Ode is a poem praising and glorifying a person, place or thing.
Example:
An Ode To Dreamers
When dreamers dream
And lovers love
Do they receive their visions
From heaven above?
Or do they originate
Where all things start
Within our minds
Within our hearts?
I know not all
But what I do know is this
You cannot build a Kingdom
Upon a flimsy wish
So believe in your dreams
Follow them blind
Lest you lose them all,
To the hands of time.
